

CS211 Data Structures and Algorithms
Autumn, 2020
Project Details

This is a team-based project. The problem you are supposed to solve is known as 'Factories'. Please read the description of the project here.

Evaluation: Maximum marks for this project is 100. The following is a tentative distribution of marks and deadlines over various evaluations of the project. Please note that the last evaluation (6th) has 50% weightage. We expect that your best code will be ready for the last evaluation. The purpose of many evaluations is to make sure that every team gets enough time to improve based on the feedback. After every evaluation, we will publish a leaderboard which will show the performance of all the teams.
